

Sunday Inspiration

Sunday's 12 AM- 3 PM

Great Christian Religious Music

Hosted by Dr. Molly Senll

Sunday Morning "Inspiration" features world famous Choirs and Orchestras. Most of the music is familiar hymns of the Christian Church. The music spans Catholic, Mormon, Baptist, Methodist, 7th Day Adventist, Lutheran, Anglican, Methodist, and many in between. Hand picked musical selections featuring the London Symphony Orchestra, Mormon Tabernacle Choir, Eden Symphony Orchestra, The King's Brass, Bob Jones University Choirs, Huddersfield Choral Society, Ralph Carmichael arrangements, Christopher West, and Phil Driscoll Trumpet just to mention a few artists and aggregations. No Commercials for 12 Hours of Inspirational Music.

Dr. Molly Snell

John Giorgis is a new addition to our Sunday morning line up. John brings you a new feature "A Moment With the Word". John has selected short bible verses delivered from the pulpit of Classic America's Cathedral. The specially selected Bible verse readings are richly produced and never exceed one minute. You will hear these readings every 30 minutes at the top and bottom of every hour Sunday Mornings between 2 AM and 10 AM New York City Time. John lives here on the Treasure Coast of Florida. John has been a Lector since he was 15. He is an active member of the Catholic Church and constantly contributing his voice to numerous church activities as well as many radio stations. We are proud to add John to our lineup of voices and inspiration.

"Patrick Coffin is like no one I've ever met. He's an extraordinary radio host, a common sense intellectual, a filmmaker, and an everyday comedian. Patrick is a rare gem and a gift to the Church." Listen for his short Inspirational vignettes at the top of some hours.

Multiple-winning songs[edit]

Several songs that won the Academy Award for Best Original Song have also ended up winning the various Award ceremonies, such as the Golden Globe Award for Best Original Song; and most notably, the Grammy Award for Best Song Written for Visual Media, an accolade presented by the Grammy Awards (for the most outstanding achievements in music).

These songs include, “The Windmills of Your Mind” (1968), “The Way We Were” (1973), “I’m Easy” (1975), “Evergreen” (1976), “You Light Up My Life” (1977), “Last Dance” (1978), “Fame” (1980), “Arthur’s Theme (Best That You Can Do)” (1981), “Up

Where We Belong" (1982), "Flashdance... What a Feeling" (1983), "I Just Called to Say I Love You" (1984), "Say You, Say Me" (1985), "Take My Breath Away" (1986), "(I've Had) The Time of My Life" (1987), "Under the Sea" (1989), "A Whole New World" (1992), "Streets of Philadelphia" (1993), "Can You Feel the Love Tonight" (1994), "Colors of the Wind" (1995), "You Must Love Me" (1996), "When You Believe" (1998), "You'll Be in My Heart" (1999), "Into the West" (2003), "The Weary Kind" (2009) and "Skyfall" (2012) and Let it Go (2013).

"My Heart Will Go On" (1997) is the only Academy Award for Best Original Song to also win the Grammy Award for Record of the Year, Song of the Year, Best Song Written for Visual Media and the Golden Globe Award for Best Original Song. Another Academy Award for Best Original Song winner "Beauty and the Beast" (1991), was also nominated for the Grammy Award for Record of the Year and Song of the Year, but managed to win the Best Song Written for Visual Media as well as Best Pop Performance by a Duo or Group with Vocals aside from winning the Golden Globe Award for Best Original Song. Celine Dion sang the lead vocals on both songs. Skyfall (2012) is the only Brit Award winning song to win an Academy Award.

The song "White Christmas" went on to become one of the biggest selling singles of all time.

Female winners[edit]

Dorothy Fields was the first female songwriter to win the Best Original Song Oscar. She wrote the lyrics for the 1936 winner "The Way You Look Tonight" (music by Jerome Kern) sung by Fred Astaire in the film Swing Time. It was thirty-two years before a second woman was honored, Marilyn Bergman, who co-wrote with husband Alan the lyrics for "Windmills of Your Mind" (music Michel Legrand) from The Thomas Crown Affair in 1968. Alan & Marilyn Bergman also wrote the lyrics of 1973 winner "The Way We Were" (music Marvin Hamlisch) from the film of the same name (and the lyrics for the film musical Yentl, which won the Oscar in a different category, Best Original Song Score, in 1983).

Female winners since then:

- Barbra Streisand (music) (for “Evergreen” from A Star Is Born in 1976), the first woman to be honored as a composer rather than lyricist.
- Carole Bayer Sager (music) (“Arthur’s Theme (Best That You Can Do)” from Arthur in 1981), the first woman to be honored as both composer and lyricist.
- Buffy Sainte-Marie (music) (“Up Where We Belong” from An Officer and a Gentleman in 1982)
- Irene Cara (lyrics) (“Flashdance... What a Feeling” from Flashdance in 1983)
- Carly Simon (music and lyrics) (“Let the River Run” from Working Girl in 1988), the first solo female songwriter to be honored.
- Annie Lennox (music and lyrics) (“Into the West” from The Lord of the Rings: The Return of the King in 2003)
- Fran Walsh (music and lyrics) (“Into the West” from The Lord of the Rings: The Return of the King in 2003)
- Melissa Etheridge (music and lyrics) (“I Need to Wake Up” from An Inconvenient Truth in 2006), the second solo female songwriter to be honored.
- Markéta Irglová (music and lyrics) (“Falling Slowly” from Once) in 2007.
- Adele (music and lyrics) (“Skyfall” from Skyfall) in 2012.
- Kristen Anderson-Lopez (music and lyrics) (“Let It Go” from Frozen) in 2013.

Foreign-language song winners[edit]

- Manos Hadjidakis was the first to receive this award for a song originally written in a language other than English, in 1960 for “Never on Sunday” (Greek title “Ta Paidia toy Peiraia”) from the Greek film Never on Sunday

(Greek title Pote tin Kyriaki).

- Jorge Drexler was the second foreign language songwriter to win the Best Original Song Oscar, for “Al otro lado del río” from The Motorcycle Diaries in 2004. That year another foreign language writing pair were nominated, composer Bruno Coulais and lyricist Christophe Barratier for “Vois sur ton chemin (Look to Your Path)” from the French film The Chorus.
- A. R. Rahman and Gulzar are the third and fourth foreign language composer and songwriter respectively to win in the Best Original Song category, which they shared for the Hindi song “Jai Ho” from Slumdog Millionaire, at the 81st Academy Awards in 2009. That same year, “O... Saya”, another partly Hindi song from the same film by Rahman and M.I.A., was also nominated, making it the first time two foreign language songs from the same film were nominated in the category.
