About Us

A pops orchestra is an orchestra that plays popular music (generally traditional pop) and show tunes, as well as, well-known classical works. Pops orchestras are generally organised in large cities and are distinct from the more “highbrow” symphony or philharmonic orchestras which also may exist in the same city. This is not to say that the distinction is complete; many symphony orchestras (for instance, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra) put on pops performances with some regularity.
